

Brovedani Group

Brovedani Group is a precision mechanics company located in Italy, Slovakia and Mexico, consisting in 3 companies and 6 production units. They all operate in compliance with common guide lines and established values, the result of a culture and a history which began in 1947 when Brovedani's first facility opened in Pordenone (Italy). The Group's strong points are its organization and its creativity, as demonstrated by the remarkable innovation that has been brought to the field of mechanics for B2B, both in the conception of the product and team development of production processes and their industrial applications. The innovative spirit has contributed to the success of the Brovedani Group, which has become an essential supplier for multinational companies such as Bosch, Delphi, Eaton, Electrolux, Continental, Sanden and others. Thanks to constant investments in new production means (over 15% of the yearly turnover), Brovedani Group has reached over 70 million euro turnover with 600 employees.
